Stand up and be proud of T_EX

TUG 2002 — Annual Meeting and
Conference of the T_EX Users Group
<http://www.tug.org.in/tug2002>

1. TUG 2002 in India

Trumpet loudly TUG 2002's theme, all ye faithful:

Stand up and be proud of T_EX!

After all, you're heading for God's Own Country!

The most exciting T_EX event of 2002, the international conference of T_EX Users Group, is scheduled to be conducted in India during September 4-7, 2002 at Park Centre, Technopark, Trivandrum, the capital of the south Indian State of Kerala, fondly called God's Own Country for its wealth of natural charms.

This is going to be the first TUG Annual Conference and the first major T_EX event to be held outside Europe or North America and we, the organizers, are hoping for excellent participation, especially from the Far East, Australasia and, of course, India.

This is an unprecedented opportunity for you and anyone else interested in T_EX to participate and/or offer a presentation at what promises to be a rousing event. We hope to make TUG 2002 a huge success, and we expect lots of high quality presentations on this Conference's theme, Stand up and be proud of T_EX!. The presentations will convincingly show why T_EX is still the typesetting tool of choice, how it can handle a wide range of material, and especially how it can coexist with the new world of XML.

We expect the presentations and papers to specifically address these topics:

- Using T_EX to typeset XML
- Multilingual typesetting using Omega
- High quality hyperdocuments using pdfT_EX
- Fonts for non-Latin languages
- New directions for Metafont and Metapost

Full conference details can be found at <http://www.tug.org.in/tug2002/>.

Suffice to say here that there is an added attraction to come to TUG 2002 perhaps a few days in advance. The 23rd Annual Conference is being held in the capital of the palmy, tropical South Indian State of Kerala, billed by National Geographic Traveler as one of the Top 50 must see destinations of the millennium. Not for nothing is Kerala known in the travel trade as God's Own Country. The official conference website will give you more information on this most beautiful part of India, where you can be sure to expect very warm hospitality, a high physical quality of life, and excellent facilities.

The TUG 2002 Program Committee chair is Sebastian Rahtz of Oxford University and the Organizing Committee chair is Satish Babu of Internet Application Technologies (InApp), Trivandrum.

Proposals for papers should be directed immediately to papers@tug2002.tug.org.in.

1.1. Important Dates

- January/February 2002*: send in abstracts for papers
- End of February 2002*: notification of acceptance of paper
- End of March 2002*: preliminary program available
- May 2002*: send first version of full paper
- July 2002*: send final version of full paper
- 1-3 September 2002*: Pre-conference tutorial
- 4-7 September 2002*: TUG conference in India

1.2. Tutorials

From 1 to 3 September 2002, there will be Pre-conference Tutorials on the following topics:

- Introduction to T_EX
- L^AT_EX to SGML/XML/MathML conversion
- XML and XSL transformation procedures
- TEI XML
- Generation of hyperlinked documents with pdfT_EX and ConT_EXt
- Multilingual typesetting using Omega

1.3. Email ids for contact

- General information: tug2002@tug.org.in
- Submission of papers: papers@tug2002.tug.org.in
- Financial matters: finance@tug2002.tug.org.in
- Travel information: travel@tug2002.tug.org.in
- Media relations: media@tug2002.tug.org.in

1.4. The Program

In addition to the usual programs, we expect to have a major session on languages. As a new concept, we also plan to have a continuous workshop, running in parallel with the main conferences sessions. Experienced staff will be available for hands-on training and problem solving. This means that participants who do not have a strong interest in a particular session can learn T_EX, XML, and even graphics generation using common graphics programs.

1.5. Expected attendance

Taking India alone, there are some 50 typesetting companies, most of them using T_EX in one form or another. In addition, some 400 institutions use T_EX. We confidently estimate that at least 150 people will attend from the Indian subcontinent. We would expect this meeting to be the best attended in recent years, with participants from all continents.

2. Facilities

The conference venue is the International Convention Centre at Technopark which is located about 14 km from the center of Trivandrum city, the capital of Kerala. The conference facilities are impressive by any standards, and benefit from air conditioning throughout. The international airport is about 8 km and railway station about 2 km from the city. Kovalam, the internationally famous beach resort is about 20 min drive from Trivandrum. For an excellent source of information on tourism and Kerala in general, see <http://www.kerelatourism.org>.

The Convention Center offers three conference halls (one large and two small), full audio-visual facilities, high speed satellite link, video conferencing, etc.

A dedicated 64K line will be available throughout the conference. Full internet facilities will be available to attendees, including hands-on support.
